Art at the Prado Museum

COURSE DESIGNATOR: MADR 3021
NUMBER OF CREDITS: 3

COURSE DESCRIPTION
The aim of this course is to make students familiar with the most relevant and internationally outstanding Spanish and European artists within the Prado Museum Permanent Collections. The course will help students to fully understand and assimilate art history fundamental concepts and movements such as Renaissance, Baroque, and Neoclassicism, with a specific concentration on Spanish masters such as El Greco, Velázquez, and Goya. Simultaneously, it will help students confront Spain’s and Europe most controversial history: from the dark Medieval Ages to the beginning of the 19th Century. Two observations will be fundamental to our investigations.

The first is that art history involves the study not simply of formal concepts. A work of art has a physical presence that is offered by the artist but his/her ideas, convictions, and claims are shaped in large measure by specific social circumstances. The relevance of the latter are those that turn an artwork into a masterpiece. Thus, techniques and styles of representation are just the beginning of art history research.

The second observation has to do with the relationship between art and culture: Art does not simply (or passively) reflect a given culture, but rather actively participates in its formation and development. A work of art, then, is the deepest expression of a social, religious, political, as well as intellectual context. Thus, thorough the artworks’ analysis, students will develop critical and intellectual thinking by the means of observation, research, and interpretation.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

• To learn to identify, analyze and appraise works of art
• To learn to research and write about art and familiarize oneself with basic bibliography about art history
• To develop criteria for the evaluation of works of art through visual memory, critical thinking, and experienced aesthetic sensibility
• To expand one’s knowledge of the European and Western culture (and in particular Spanish culture) through the visual arts

Course components

Attendance. It is very important that you attend every class meeting. Missing more than two classes will lower your final grade in this course. For each additional absence, your grade will be lowered one step on the grading scale (e.g., from a B to a
B-). In the event that you are absent, it is your responsibility to find out what material you have missed and any homework assignments.

Participation & Attitude. Participation is essential to knowledge acquisition. In order for you to participate actively in class, you should review the appropriate material ahead of time. Every class period you will receive a 0, a 0.5, or a 1. At the end of the semester, these points will be used to calculate your attendance, participation, and attitude grade.

Homework: Must be completed by the due date. No late homework will be accepted.

Workbook assignments are due on the scheduled dates.

Museum field trips: Every student is expected to visit museums on his/her own as part of their individual research and study.

EVERY WEEK, THURSDAY classes (your professor will let you know about exceptions at the beginning of the semester, such as for museum reservations), from the second week on, will be held at the Prado Museum as an integral part of the course. On the scheduled class time, students will meet the instructor at the Prado Museum, Goya, OR Murillo entrance depending on given instructions. Students are expected to take notes. NEVER TAKE BACKPACKS or BIG BAGS and always CARRY YOUR STUDENT CARD with you.

Midterm & final exams. One analysis of a work of art. Please check the dates. The final exam is cumulative and will evaluate all skills, including linguistic and cultural knowledge.

Required assignments

- INDIVIDUAL PROJECT: One analysis of a work of art
- GROUP RESEARCH PROJECT: One essay on a class-related topic

Both relate and involve the research and study of original works of art, based on a specific bibliography as well as visits to museums, galleries and/or monuments.

ATTENDANCE POLICY
Students are expected to be on time and attend all classes while abroad. Many instructors assess both attendance and participation when assigning a final course grade. Attendance alone does not guarantee a positive participation grade; the student should be prepared for class and engage in class discussion. See the on-site syllabus for specific class requirements.

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA POLICIES AND PROCEDURES
Academic integrity is essential to a positive teaching and learning environment. All students enrolled in University courses are expected to complete coursework responsibilities with fairness and honesty. Failure to do so by seeking unfair advantage over others or misrepresenting someone else’s work as your own can result in disciplinary action. The University Student Conduct Code defines scholastic dishonesty as follows:

SCHOLASTIC DISHONESTY:
Scholastic dishonesty means plagiarizing; cheating on assignments or examinations; engaging in unauthorized collaboration on academic work; taking, acquiring, or using test materials without faculty permission; submitting false or incomplete records of academic achievement; acting alone or in cooperation with another to falsify records or to obtain dishonestly grades, honors, awards, or professional endorsement; altering forging, or misusing a University academic record; or fabricating or falsifying data, research procedures, or data analysis.

Within this course, a student responsible for scholastic dishonesty can be assigned a penalty up to and including an “F” or “N” for the course. If you have any questions regarding the expectations for a specific assignment or exam, ask.

STUDENT CONDUCT:
The University of Minnesota has specific policies concerning student conduct. This information can be found on the Learning Abroad Center website.
