COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course is designed to provide students the vocabulary and grammar necessary for basic expression in Spanish using a communicative approach. In this course, students will learn to introduce themselves, talk about daily routine and plans, discuss past events, use vocabulary related to food, family, and everyday life and activities, negate, and use other expressions necessary for basic communication such as greetings, ordering at a restaurant, or asking for directions.

Course Objectives

By the end of this level students will be able to:

- Understand and use familiar everyday expressions and very basic phrases aimed at the satisfaction of needs of a concrete type.
- Understand sentences and frequently used expressions related to areas of most immediate relevance (e.g. very basic personal and family information, shopping, local geography, routine).
- Introduce themselves and others and ask and answer questions about personal details such as where they live, people they know and things they have.
- Interact in a simple way provided the other person talks slowly and clearly and is prepared to help.
Methodology

Our faculty’s methodological approach consists in the Communicative Method. The communicative approach is based on the idea that learning a language successfully comes from having to communicate real meaning. When learners are involved in real communication, their natural strategies for language acquisition will be used, and this will allow them to learn to use the language.

Classroom activities guided by the communicative approach are characterized by trying to produce meaningful and real communication, at all levels. As a result, there may be more emphasis on skills than systems, lessons are more learner-centered, and there may be use of authentic materials. The course will provide:

- A variety of activities that address students’ different learning styles
- A balance between developing receptive and productive skills that maximizes student interaction
- Precise grammar explanations based on context and meaning
- A wide variety of listening tasks
- Focus on vocabulary and idiomatic expressions.

Assessment Details

Participation
Students will be expected to participate actively in all class activities and discussions, talking only in Spanish, and arriving with all assignments done and ready to discuss. A participation grade based on the quantity and quality of participation shown during each class period and a positive attitude will be assigned regularly to each student. This will be evaluated according to the rubric “Attendance and Participation”.

Quizzes
In order to monitor the learning process of the vocabulary and grammar studied, quizzes (involving different skills: talking, reading, writing) will be given on a regular basis. Some of these quizzes may be in the form of a Field Study (these will vary depending on the semester, because they are adjusted to the national and local calendar of fiestas and festivals).

Compositions
Three compositions will be assigned during this course. All written assignments must be typed and double-lined, in font Arial 12 with 1-inch margins, and use correct Spanish punctuation. Any late written assignments will be accepted but with a penalty (~5 points per calendar day). The compositions will be evaluated according to the rubric for evaluating “Compositions.”

Oral Presentation
Students will have to do an Oral Presentation in class and in Spanish. Each student will be allotted 4 to 5 minutes for the presentation. The presentation will be evaluated according to the rubric for evaluating “Oral Presentation” (attached to this syllabus).

Exams
There will be 2 exams. One in the middle of the semester and one at the end. They will not be accumulative.

POLICIES

Attendance Policy
Students are expected to be on time and attend all classes while abroad. Many instructors assess both attendance and participation when assigning a final course grade. Attendance alone does not guarantee a positive participation grade; the student should be prepared for class and engage in class discussion. See the on-site syllabus for specific class requirements.

University of Minnesota Policies & Procedures
Academic integrity is essential to a positive teaching and learning environment. All students enrolled in University courses are expected to complete coursework responsibilities with fairness and honesty. Failure to do so by seeking unfair advantage over others or misrepresenting someone else’s work as your own can result in disciplinary action. The University Student Conduct Code defines scholastic dishonesty as follows:

Scholastic Dishonesty
Scholastic dishonesty means plagiarizing; cheating on assignments or examinations; engaging in unauthorized collaboration on academic work; taking, acquiring, or using test materials without faculty permission; submitting false or incomplete records of academic achievement; acting alone or in cooperation with another to falsify records or to obtain dishonestly grades, honors, awards, or professional endorsement; altering forging, or misusing a University academic record; or fabricating or falsifying data, research procedures, or data analysis.
Within this course, a student responsible for scholastic dishonesty can be assigned a penalty up to and including an "F" or "N" for the course. If you have any questions regarding the expectations for a specific assignment or exam, ask.

Student Conduct

The University of Minnesota has specific policies concerning student conduct. This information can be found on the Learning Abroad Center website.
