Course Description

This class is built as a series of discussion sessions. Throughout group discussions about news and precise topics (gastronomy, French music, immigration...) students will acquire advanced vocabulary and learn more about social and cultural facts and French contemporary civilization

We will study topics such as immigration in France, the French social system, cinema, leisure...and provide the students with useful information in everyday life

Learning will be based on listening and speaking with material such as songs, TV shows, movie extracts... A vocabulary sheet will provide vocabulary about the topic studied. Focus will be put on correct vocabulary and pronunciation.

Course Objectives

The goal of the class is to provide students with advanced conversational skills in French and cultural knowledge about France and French people.

Methodology

- Every week, students will have to prepare an oral presentation on a French press article or other material (biography of an artist, book criticism...).
- Every week a vocabulary sheet about the topic of the class will be given and explained. Students will have to learn the vocabulary. Quizzes will be given randomly during the semester.

- The final exam will be a final oral presentation on a press article chosen by the student. The student should be able to have a detailed conversation about the article.

Policies

Attendance Policy

Students are expected to be on time and attend all classes while abroad. Many instructors assess both attendance and participation when assigning a final course grade. Attendance alone does not guarantee a positive participation grade; the student should be prepared for class and engage in class discussion. See the on-site syllabus for specific class requirements.

University of Minnesota Policies & Procedures

Academic integrity is essential to a positive teaching and learning environment. All students enrolled in University courses are expected to complete coursework responsibilities with fairness and honesty. Failure to do so by seeking unfair advantage over others or misrepresenting someone else's work as your own can result in disciplinary action. The University Student Conduct Code defines scholastic dishonesty as follows:

Scholastic Dishonesty

Scholastic dishonesty means plagiarizing; cheating on assignments or examinations; engaging in unauthorized collaboration on academic work; taking, acquiring, or using test materials without faculty permission; submitting false or incomplete records of academic achievement; acting alone or in cooperation with another to falsify records or to obtain dishonestly grades, honors, awards, or professional endorsement; altering forging, or misusing a University academic record; or fabricating or falsifying data, research procedures, or data analysis.

Within this course, a student responsible for scholastic dishonesty can be assigned a penalty up to and including an "F" or "N" for the course. If you have any questions regarding the expectations for a specific assignment or exam, ask.

Student Conduct

The University of Minnesota has specific policies concerning student conduct. This information can be found on the Learning Abroad Center website.
